    <p2>
        The Pakistan national cricket team or Pak cricket team, often referred to as the Shaheens (lit. 'Falcons'),[12][13] Green Shirts,[14] Men in Green[15] and Cornered Tigers[16][17] is administered by the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB).
        The team is a Full Member of the International Cricket Council, and participates in Test, One Day International (ODI) and Twenty20 International cricket matches.

    <h1>
        Australia
    </h1>
<p3>
    The Australia men's national cricket team represents Australia in men's international cricket.
    As the joint oldest team in Test cricket history, playing in the first ever Test match in 1877,[9] the team also plays One-Day International (ODI) and Twenty20 International (T20I) cricket, participating in both the first ODI, against England in the 1970-71 season[10] and the first T20I, against New Zealand in the 2004-05 season,[11] winning both games.
</p3>

```html
     The England cricket team represents England and Wales in international cricket.
      Since 1997, it has been governed by the England and Wales Cricket Board (ECB), having been previously governed by Marylebone Cricket Club (the MCC) since 1903.[8][9] England, as a founding nation, is a Full Member of the International Cricket Council
(ICC) with Test, One Day International (ODI) and Twenty20 International (T20I)
status. Until the 1990s
     , Scottish and Irish players also played for England as those countries were not yet ICC members in their own right.
